

THE OUT TRAVELER

Spring 2008

THE STANDARD OF GAY TRAVEL

RELIVING NYC'S ART DECO GLORY DAYS

Rubbing You the Right Way

Malcolm Vincent is armed with high-end sun care products and he's not afraid to use them. As the world's only "tanning butler," the Maui native spends his weekends patrolling the pool and beach area at Miami Beach's Ritz-Carlton South Beach, dispensing complimentary sunblock to both women and men from his hip holster. "If any guest needs assistance with shoulders, back, or those hard-to-reach places, I gladly give them a hand," chuckles the golden brown Malcolm. "I've really perfected my craft with all the practice I've had."

For perfect sun-kissed skin, Malcolm recommends:

- Drink a lot of water. It's good not only for preventing dehydration and heatstroke but also for the skin.
- Apply the sunscreen evenly to get that total South Beach tan, which is a great vacation souvenir.
- Apply sunscreen often, especially after jogging or swimming.
- Choose a product that blocks both UVA and UVB rays. Hampton Sun is phenomenal; it's full of vitamins A through E, it's light and luxurious on the skin, and it smells great!
- Always have a tanning butler nearby during peak tanning hours, from about 10 A.M. to 2 or 3 P.M., to help with those hard-to-reach areas.