1. CHANEL NO. 5 The fragrance that started it all back in 1924 feels just as fresh today. The ad seen here inspired millions to purchase the scent in the hopes of achieving that je ne sais quoi back when it was introduced in the U.S. in the 1950s. This season, we present scents that have been inspired by the iconic Madame Chanel.
 2. VERSACE The new fragrance from this luxe house, Versace by Versace, is just as sensual as Donatella. $89.
 3. HAMPTON SUN A delicate scent that captures the East End, Privet Bloom features notes of dune grass and blue plum. $65.
 4. BILL BLASS Exemplifying the ultimate sophistication of the Bill Blass woman, the signature scent features a crisp aroma of neroli petals and green mandarin. $150.
 5. CREVE RLEW A modernized version of their classic fragrance, Eternity Summer is crisp and clean with notes of orange blossom, Japanese pear, and white peony. $50.
 6. COACH The first perfume from the leather-goods company, Coach's signature fragrance features notes of soft florals with vanilla and precious woods. Also, its distinctive packaging is très chic. $68.
